VOLUME II. BERKELEY, CAL., SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 7, 1895. NUMBER 123

THE QUEEN OF FAME.

BERKELEY'S DAUGHTERS TO POSE FOR THE HONOR

Over Fifty Young Ladies Who Will Assist in the Entertainment.

Oakland and Alameda has had their phantasmas and living pictures, and other places have had their Trilby's, but Berkeley is going to eclipse them all with a beauty contest, and in this connection it might be well to state that there is no other town in the State that contains as many handsome girls as does Berkeley and these are augmented by the dark-eyed beauties from the southern part of the State and the brunettes and blondes from the central and northern parts of the State, who are now residing in Berkeley while taking the University course.

All of this work is to be done for a most worthy cause, namely, raising funds for the erection of a new edifice for the Presbyterians of Berkeley.

Mrs. Dr. H. N. Miner, of Dwight way, will pose as the Godess of Fame, and upon her will devolve the selection of the Queen of Fame, from among all the beauties by which she will be surrounded.

The costumes that will be worn by the ladies will be grand and gorgeous and will eclipse anything of the kind ever given in Berkeley or elsewhere.

The following is a list of some of those who have accepted characters:

Mrs. Dr. H. N. Miner, the Goddess of Fame.

Miss May Morrison, Queen Isabella.

Miss Edna Congdon, Queen Elizabeth.

Mrs. Dr. Whitworth, Queen Esther.

Miss Amy Hamlin, Cleopatra.

Miss Marie Walthers, Sappho.

Miss Lily Hamlin, Helen of Troy.

Miss Mary McCleve, Harriet Hosmer.

Miss Mabel McCoy, Florence Nightingale.

Miss Edith Russell, Jennie Lind.

Miss Rowena Robb, Scalchi.

Tabitha Primrose is to be represented by Mrs. William Hathaway.

Others who will pose and the characters they will represent as far as now assigned are:

Miss Adeline Robinson, Xantippe; Miss May Huddart, Mrs. Partington; Mrs. F. M. Husted, Joan of Arc; Miss Annie Mason, Yum Yum; Miss Louise Tuttle, Portia; Miss Lou Miller, Pocahontas; Miss Alice Raymond, Madame Sontag; Miss Grace Henderson, Aypatia; Miss Edna Carlson, Rosa Bonheur; Miss Alice Dimmock, Sister of Charity; Miss Emily Riggs, Elizabeth Fry; Miss Claribel Mussell, Goddess of Liberty.

The ladies are busy assigning characters to those who propose to take part, and have a large list of notable names to be represented by living beauties. That the co-eds of the State University have agreed to assist the Presbyterian ladies in their enterprise is regarded as a great factor in the anticipated success of the entertainment.

The performance will be given at Shattuck Hall on September 20th and it is a forgone conclusion that the ladies will realize a handsome sum for the building fund of the church.

Sawyer-Doherty.

At the residence of Mrs. Harris on September 4th, Charles Waite Sawyer was united in marriage to Miss Kate Doherty of Hollister.

Church service at the Methodist Church, Seventh street south of Univerrity avenue, tomorrow: Sunday-school, 10 a. m. Preaching by the pastor at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30. All are invited.

Mayor Sutro's Donation.

Mayor Sutro of San Francisco has addressed a letter to the Regents of the University of California and to the committee appointed to select a site for the Affiliated Colleges, in which he advances many good reasons why the proposition he made, donating a site, should be acted favorably upon. They are of the good, practical, common-sense order.

As eleven out of a committee of thirteen have voted to accept Mayor Sutro's valuable gift it goes to show that his argument convinced a large majority of the committee. It now goes to the Regents for final action. There does not seem to be much doubt but that this body of gentlemen will vote in the same proportion as the committee did.

His Services Not Paid For.

W. W. Elliott has a rejected claim for $1185 against the estate of William Larkin, a pioneer, who died in San Francisco last year. The claim has been made the basis of a suit against George H. Kavanagh, executor of the estate. Elliott has filed an itemized account of services rendered the old man some time prior to his death. The items are as follows:

"To use of sitting-room and fire for two years preceding and up to December 20, 1893, at $19 a month, $240.

"To personal attendance of claimant and wife during same period, including meals and medicines furnished, $250.

"To nursing and attendance, $300.

"To expense incurred nursing deceased, advice, etc., $50.

"To daily attendance of claimant and wife during sickness at hospital, at request of deceased, $250.

"To services rendered in cleaning room of deceased, moving furniture and rubbish, painting and whitening, $25.

"Storage of piano and furniture one year $60.

"To moving piano two times, $10."

Quick Service.

From the Vallejo Chronicle we learn that the opposition steamer Monticello which runs between that place and San Francisco, is making a success of the business. The trip is easily accomplished in two hours and fifteen minutes, quicker than that time even when the tide assists. This is the kind of a boat that is needed to ply between Berkeley and San Francisco. In connection with an electric railway from East to West Berkeley the owners would make money the first month that the service might be put in operation. Berkeley is bound to have this ferry, and it is only the question of a very short time.

One More Spoon.

In one of General Benjamin F. Butler's political campaigns he was to speak in a hall which has a small aperture over the speaker's desk. Some of the younger and dare-devil element secreted themselves in the loft from which the hole opened, and at an impressive moment in the General's speech a huge wooden spoon suspended by a cord was seen descending slowly from the ceiling. The effect upon the audience was instantaneous, and amid roars of laughter, in which even the dignified occupants of the platform could not help joining, the spoon pursued its downward course, halting only when directly opposite the speaker's face. Mr. Butler gazed calmly at the cause of the merriment. Then, reaching for the trophy, he said gravely: "Hello! There's one I didn't get." and, pocketing the prize, he resumed his address.—Boston Budget.

VERY SERIOUS.

MANAGER WHORLE OF THE HOFFBURG BREWERY

Meets With a Very Serious Accident Which Puts Him Now Out Of Sight.

Mr. Whorle, agent for the Hoffburg Brewery, met with an accident last evening that might have cost him his life, and as it is he will be laid up for a couple of weeks and maybe longer.

He was down at Lorin attending to some business, and when he was ready to go home it was 5 o'clock. His horse was quite restless when he untied him and just as Mr. Whorle attempted to get into his buggy the horse started, throwing him to the ground. He held on to the horse trying to stop the animal and was dragged for some distance before he let go his hold of him.

Connie Newell had the injured man taken to his place and summoned a physician, who, upon examination found that his nose had been broken, also two fingers; his face and eyes were badly bruised and swollen and he was pretty badly shaken up all over.

His runaway horse continued in its mad flight and was caught later in West Berkeley.

Mr. Whorle was resting easy this afternoon but he did not feel as if he would have much chance for a prize.

Genuine Enterprise.

The S. F. Call has made arrangements by which its New York correspondents will have special advantages in witnessing the international yacht races, the first of which commenced this morning. They will take passage on the Mackay-Bennett steamer, which will be telegraphically connected with the New York office of the Postal Telegraph Company, and from here disseminated to all parts of the world.

At San Francisco the Call will, by models, make a public display of the positions of each yacht as it occurs during the run, so that an observer can see the race run about as well as if he was on the spot where it really occurred. The ridge may be short but the head is long.

Bargains In Cast-off Shoes.

Meeting the other day a gentleman who was in search of an old shoe for making a pump washer, Mr. Judkins, Old Orchard's octogenarian butter dealer, was led to relate the following: Many years ago in central Maine a man started out to sell oil cloth table covers throughout the country at 50 cents a cover. After traveling all day without selling one, a happy thought struck him. He would charge a dollar and take half the pay in cast off shoes. The result was, people imagined they were getting some return from their old shoes, and there was a general ransacking of attics aud table covers went like hot cakes. But the old shoes? Well, whenever he found a convenient hole beside the road, out of sight he pulled up his cart and dumped the lot. All the world loves a dicker—and doesn't always get at the bargain counters so good a trade as our venerable friend has chronicled.—Lewiston Journal:

The smoke stacks of the Telegraph avenue electric line are being painted. The work is watched with great interest, as one man is raised in a chair to the top and paints a strip down to the roof. The stacks are five feet in diameter, and it takes three trips to paint around one of them.

Miss Stella Bagnella and Miss Gussie Cole, both teachers in Madera, are visiting in Berkeley.

In the time allowance of the great ocean yacht race today the Defender will be given 291-10 seconds.

Quite a large number of Berkeleyans attended the wheelmen's race at Oakland today.

Miss Bertha Grau, '99, has returned to her home in Sacramento for a few days, in order to attend the Native Sons' celebration.

John Jackson, aged 22, of Berkeley, and Hilma Harmaala, aged 22, of Berkeley, have taken out a license to be married.

The last run of the ocean flyer Lucania from Queenstown to Sandy Hook was accomplished in about five days and nine hours.

Dr. Tucker will be at Dr. Ruttleges drugstore this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock to examine candidates for entrance to Court Ocean View, A.O.F. of A.

T. L. and Elizabeth C. Merrill have sold to L. L. M. Salsbury lots 3 and 4, block E, resubdivision of Smith's subdivision of Mathew's tract.

Joe Leach, an Oakland criminal, was arrested in West Berkeley Thursday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. Judge Lord sentenced him to six days in the County Jail.

Miss Mabel Kimball, a teacher in the Los Angeles schools, has returned to Berkeley, where she is visiting friends, after a pleasant trip through Oregon and Washington.

The rails across Addison street are being placed in condition for teams and pedestrians to cross them. It is time, for sooner or later a suit for damages would have been instituted against the S. P. Company, by some one who had been hurt.

Professor Al Lean and wife have met with a sad affliction in the death of their infant daughter, Lillian, who died early yesterday morning. The little one was very healthy until a week ago, when she contracted a cold. She was aged one month and five days.

The Rev. James Curry D. D. will preach in the Presbyterian church, West Berkeley, next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Curry was the first pastor of the church which was the first organized in Berkeley, and he will receive a warm welcome. The Rev. Mr. Hunter will preach in the evening.

An important decision was given yesterday by a San Francisco Justice of the Peace. A furniture vendor, who sells on the instalment plan, seized some furniture, on account of the non-payment of an amount due, and carted it away. The decision was that his act was illegal, and he must return the goods, as the contract was really a sale.

John Rose, a resident of South Berkeley, was stood up by a lone highwayman Thursday night on Shattuck avenue, near Russell street. At first Mr. Rose paid no attention to the demand for his money, thinking that it was some friend playing a joke on him. But he was soon convinced of his mistake and got away as fast as his legs could carry him.

Among the notables in educational work who have signified their intention of being present at the sessions of the Alameda County Teachers' Institue, to be held on October 9th, 10th and 11th, will be Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the "Journal of Education" of Boston. Dr. Winship was on this Coast several years ago, when he showed marked ability in institute work.

EXTRA!

DEFENDER

Beats the Valkyrie III 7 Minutes Clear.

LIGHT WINDS - FOGGY WEATHER

With a Fair Breeze the English Yacht Runs Far Behind. Excitement High.

Special to the GAZETTE.

It is with feelings of pride that the GAZETTE presents its reade s with the result of the international yacht race which took place today over a thirty mile course from Sandy Hook over the usual course.

The start was made during a heavy fog and a very light wind, and the Valkyrie III showed at once that with a light wind, it was the better sailer.

The time was naturally slow and it looked as though the Valkyrie was an easy winner, as she was at least 1¼ miles ahead but fifteen minutes after the Valkyrie III passed the state boat the Defender rounded the boat and her sails at once filled with a stiff breeze and from that time on she increaced until after she passed the light house. It was then evident that the Defender was a winner for she cut the water like a knife and kept forging ahead, and when she wound up at the starting point her time was 7 1-2 minutes ahead of the Valkyrie.

New York is wild with excitement, and the steam craft on the bay made things very exciting with the screechings of whistles, which was taken up by every mill and factory in New York and Brooklyn.

The Orphans.

The Orphanage for Homeless Girls, erected by Mrs. George S. Montgomery in the Salvation Army town of Beulah, near Mills Seminary, was dedicated yesterday. The ceremonies were of a congratulatory nature, and were attended by hundreds from Oakland and San Francisco. Many of the churches were represented, either by their pastors or members of the congregation. Salvation Army captains were present from all parts of the Coast. Although the Home is to be non-sectarian, the services partook of the faith of the donor. Salvation songs were sung and speeches made by many of the captains of the Army.

Nicely furnished rooms to let to a desirable gentleman. Everything is new, situated near the University and in a nice quiet part of town. All the comforts of a home. Inquire at our Berkeley office in Western Union Tel. Office. 86-1m

It is Said

That Sam Fisher is getting to be a scorcher and that he offered to back it up this afternoon by a bet of $50 and threw down his bluffer.

That Frank O'Brien has changed his saloon all around, and that he is going to make many more improvements.

That an ex-Justice of Berkeley was caught in a peculiar position today, and that "fin de siecle" was not in it for the scandal that will follow.

That Dick Knott has had his hair cut and his whiskers trimmed. This forced him to put on a silk hat and while he wore it people who met him thought that ex-President Harrison was in town.

That the Street Car Company of Berkeley are strictly in it and will not give their horses a drink within the mile limit, consequently the horses now take their drinks at Henry Osterman's, at the end of the line in West Berkeley.

That Connie Newell is a humanitarian since he left the classic shades of Berkeley and builded him a business and a home on the edge of Butchertown, and that he says the GAZETTE can pull your leg and at the same time shrink it up.

That Willie Winn met a foeman worthy of his steal in Dan Madden last evening.

That Harry Kelsey will furnish the baby caps and the nursing bottles for the new parlor of Native Sons that leave tomorrow for Sacramento.

That owing to the many notices in the GAZETTE in reference to the Addison street crossing of the Southern Pacific Company, that corporation is now fixing the tracks so that there will be no longer danger to life and limb.

That a well known druggist of Berkeley has an advertisement in the GAZETTE this evening and the cut of a California Bear, which might be slightly transposed, would lead everybody in these Native Sons times to know who it is. The first answer will give the winner a nice package of face powder it presented at his place of business before noon on Monday.

That the correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle did Berkeley and the West Berkeley Progressive Club a great injustice in its issue of this morning. The correspondent stated that the glass works, the bicycle factory and the ferry business had all fell through. The statement was a LIE and the correspondent who is drawing $125 per month from the town knows it to be a lie.

That a few more cracks from irresponsible correspondents will cause a loss of many subscribers in Berkeley.

That a rival paper subscribed for five copies of the GAZETTE for one year and paid for the same in advance.

That this means that the millenium has come and that our former rivals are now our solicitors.

That there will be a marriage take place in Berkeley this evening and that the groom thought he was very cunning when he paid the deputy clerk $5 to keep it away from the reporters.

That we know all about that, but will not give it away and still will not charge him five dollars. How about that Charlie?

That owing to a snap of the finger and the exclamation "Thunder!" the reporters of the GAZETTE had a two-mile walk today for nothing, although they knew there was something in it.

That the El Dorado Oil Works blew their whistle fifteen minutes before time last evening, when the engineer saw Dick Knott with a four-months old baby in his arms at the street car terminus.

That Joe Hesschfeld, the popular grocer, said: "Vell, I vonder; I dink I quvit boarding down there so soon before it vas got late."

That the phenomenal success of the GAZETTE causes some people to be very envious.

OUR STREETS.

Attention cannot be called too often to the fact that the streets of Berkeley will show to a much better advantage when trees are planted along the sidewalks. The every-day man passes along and scarcely ever gives it a thought and yet when he comes to a section of the street where shade trees are growing the ejaculation quickly comes forth, "How pretty this looks."

It is a matter of but very little labor for every resident to plant small trees in front of his house. It only requires the planting; nature will do the rest.

Our attention was called to the matter particularly when of late it was a pleasure for us to ride through a street in the Southern part of the State, which was seventeen miles long and 200 feet wide. In the center of this magnificent avenue was planted a row of trees and two other rows were growing near the sidewalk.

It was the work of but a very years and we could hardly realize the quick growth. The street leads out of the town of Riverside and cannot help enchanting all visitors. The same thing can be accomplished here if our people will only bestir themselves and put in the foundation. The times is very near when this work can be done to advantage. Will Berkeleyans give it a second thought and give a few hours to make the town look still more beautiful.

A FOREGONE CONCLUSION.

That James H. Budd as Governor of California has seen his best days is the conclusion which one naturally arrives at from information that comes to the public in a semi-official way from the medical part of his household. He is shattered beyond anything that would be likely to rehabilitate him, except enforced absence from public life for a period far beyond the term of office to which he has been elected.

If he considers life worth living the sooner he gets beyond the pale of politics and the constant wearing that official duties bring with it, the more chances he will have to count days on this mundane sphere.

With a constitution none too strong to endure the strain of political life, where so much is required, he has already fallen a martyr to the Democratic cause. With him it is a case of passing out with the harness on his back, or a long retirement to private life, where there is a possibility of ultimately a partial recovery.

These are good solid facts and chunks of every-day wisdom for him to ponder upon when this number of the GAZETTE is placed before him for perusal.

So far the Governor has proved himself to be a good average man in that position, and letting well enough alone is very applicable to his case.

THE NEW FERRY.

The edict has gone forth that West Berkeley and San Francisco is to be connected by a passenger ferry service. Mr. Samuel Heywood and a number of other men of means in Berkeley are interested in the matter and plans are now on foot for the incorporation of a company to be known as the Berkeley and San Francisco Ferry Company.

The amount of money to be raised is $250,000, over half of which is already subscribed, with pledges for nearly all the rest. The people interested in this new transportation scheme are in earnest and will push it through just as quickly as possible.

The wharf will have to be extended out quite a distance beyond its present terminus, and slips and waiting rooms built. It is estimated that this will cost about $50,000. The street car lines will be turned into electric lines and arrangements will then be made so that one fare will take passengers on both boat and car.

The benefit to Berkeley of this system can hardly be estimated. It will bring thousands of people here to live, a large majority of whom will build and own their homes. Land is cheap here, and can be bought upon easy terms, and the only thing that keeps people from purchasing is the transportation facillties. At the present time it takes three quarters of an hour from West Berkeley to San Francisco and 50 minutes from East Berkeley to the foot of Market street. By the proposed ferry line one can leave East Berkeley on an electric car and reach West Berkeley in five minutes, then the trip across the bay can be made in twenty-five minutes, making a total of just half an hour.

This ferry system has been talked of for years but nothing has ever come of it except talk. This time, however, men of means have taken hold of the matter and will push it right through.

The Southern Pacific have become so insolent that there is nothing left to do, but to do without them.

They discriminate in every way possible against Berkeley. They will not allow any of their passenger trains to stop here. In East Berkeley they run the poorest and shabbiest kind of cars while in Alameda they run handsome cars. In West Berkeley they run an elephant car that is neither ornamental nor comfortable. On their maps and guide books the name of Berkeley is studiously avoided. They will not sell a ticket from any point other than San Francisco to Berkeley. Sixteenth street, Oakland, is as near as a passenger can get to Berkeley, without changing cars and paying another fare.

At Palo Alto, the station for the Stanford University, they have a fine park, and are now erecting an elegant stone depot. At East Berkeley, the entrance to the State University, they have a little cowshed for a depot, and have just erected a miserable looking freight shed. All of these discriminations against Berkeley have caused the people here to make up their minds that it is time to break away from the fetters of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, and help themselves and their town.

Of course the Southern Pacific Company will do all in their power to prevent the placing of a ferry line against them, and if they cannot stop it they will put on an oppositon boat but it will avail them nothing while it will do Berkeley worlds of good, and will, in a very short time double our population.

Berkeley is destined to be one of the largest and most prosperous cities on this side of the bay and it is now waking up to the advantages that it is possessed of and will not be slow hereafter in making them known to the world.

That the phenomenal success of the GAZETTE causes some people to be very envious.

AN INNOCENT PARSON.

HIS ATTEMPT TO DESCRIBE A RAM FIGHT IN RING VERNACULAR.

The Bride Ventured a Suggestion Which Caught On—The Preacher Didn't Fully Succeed In Appearing Unsophisticated. The Little Ram's Ring Tactics.

A preacher told this story at a wedding supper on the South Side the other evening:

"I was riding along a country road near Bloomington," he said, "when I noticed a group of sheep in a pasture. There was a large open space in the midst of the flock, and at either end of the space stood a ram. In the center, but standing a little at one side, was a third ram. The two rams had evidently had a falling out about something, or else they had come to settle in a friendly contest which was the better ram. Ram No. 3 seemed to be acting as—judge, umpire—what do you call it? Referee? Yes, that's it, the third ram was the referee. I don't know under what rules the meeting took place. It may have been Queensberry or Rosebery. You see I am not up to these technical matters.

"When all the preliminaries had been arranged and both contestants had been cautioned apparently that there was to be no 'fouling'—I think I have seen that word in the newspapers occasionally, and therefore I suppose it is a correct word to use in this connection—each backed off to the farthest limits of the circle, which, by the way, was not a squared circle. The referee stepped out of the way, and the rams dashed toward each other. When their heads came together, there was a terrific crash, and the force of the concussion threw them as far apart as the length of this table."

All the guests looked the full length of the table from the passion flowers at one end to the bride's cake in the far perspective, and then at the preacher in the middle distance, but nobody said anything.

"Then," continued the preacher, "they took their places, apparently none the worse for the encounter. Again, evidently at a preconcerted signal from the referee, they dashed together. This time the shock was even more terrific than the first, and I noticed that as one of them went back to his—ah, what do they call it, corner?—he was a little unsteady on his legs."

"Groggy!" ventured the bride.

"I believe that is the technical term," replied the preacher, "although, as I have intimated, I am not at all familiar with sporting phraseology. When time was called for the third round—ahem—that is, I mean to say when the rams had recovered strength for a third collision—there was another rush, a crash, and one of the rams, the one you so aptly described as 'groggy' (with an acknowledgment to the bride) fell to his knees. His adversary did not seem inclined to follow up his advantage, but possibly he may have been restrained by the rules of the meeting. At any rate, after contemplating his fallen foe gravely for a moment he walked back to his place. The other ram, after resting briefly, struggled to his feet. The third ram—the one I have called the referee—looked at him rather inquiringly, as it seemed to me, but the warrior showed no sign of recognition. He ambled to his side of the ring and faced about. A murmur of some sort seemed to go through the flock. The odds were apparently 3 to 1 in favor of the other ram—that is to say, it seemed to be the general opinion that the ram with the weak knees had been outclassed, as the other one was decidedly the heavier of the two.

"However, the smaller ram seemed to have wonderful recuperative powers. When the proper interval had elapsed, he came up smiling, as it were. I even thought I could see a twinkle in his eye, for I was quite close to the fence, and this thing took place only a little distance away. As the referee stepped back from the center of the ring, where he kept his position between the meetings, the other two rams drove at each other pellmell. At the very instant when their hard horns would have met, however, the smaller ram suddenly changed his course to the right, and the other went through the ranks like a catapult.

"Just as he turned about, evidently boiling over with indignation at the trick which had been played on him, the other one, with the added force given by a longer run from one side of the circle to a point several feet outside of it, where the larger ram's momentum had carried him, shot at him like a cannon ball, striking him full in the face and driving him several feet away, where he lay limp and helpless. The third ram, who was promptly on the spot, as I suppose every competent referee should be, nodded his head several times—indeed it looked to me as if he was counting—and then the fallen ram failing to rise the whole flock marched away toward a knoll in another part of the meadow with the victorious ram at the head. Presently the defeated ram got on his feet and made his way to a secluded spot down by a little run, where I saw him reclining in the shade of a large willow tree as I rode away."

"What an interesting study natural history is," said the bride's grandmother as she adjusted her glasses.

"It is indeed," said the groom's father, coughing behind his napkin.—Chicago Tribune.

An Irish Student's Reply.

An Irish student, who some years ago attended the university of Edinburgh, called upon one of the most celebrated teachers of the German flute, desiring to know on what terms he would give him a few lessons. The flute player informed him that he generally charged 2 guineas for the first month and 1 guinea for the second. "Then, by my soul," replied the cunning Hibernian, "I'll come in the second month."

Promiscuous Fires.

A short time since the Trustees passed a resolution ordering all property owners in Berkeley to clean off the sidewalks as well as the streets to the centre of the passage way.

It has a good effect in one way but in another it has caused more or less anxiety. In many places grass has grown on both sides of the wood or concrete sidewalks and often reaching out into the midd'e of the street.

Some people set the grass on fire without digging it up and placing it in piles so that there may be no danger of the fire spreading and thereby burning fences and endangering residences even.

Quite often the debris is damp on top although dry underneath. When the match is applied the fire runs rapidly close to the ground, bnt the top of the material being of a damp nature it causes large clouds of smoke to arise giving the appearance of a very large fire. The effect is to make people believe hat there is a large conflagration close at hand. A particular case occurred today which made people both in East and West Berkeley quite anxious. A fire was started on University avenue a little east of San Pablo and quicker than it can be written about huge clouds of smoke began to ascend and fill the air.

Residents of both ends of the town concluded that either buildings or a large stack of hay had got on fire. Many rushed to the place only to find that there was a large amount of underbrush which had become ignited and caused all of the trouble.

Too much care cannot be taken in making these bonfires. So far there has been no loss, but when the wind blows strong sparks may be carried a long distance, and no one can tell how much loss may come from it.

Resolutions of Regret.

The class of December '94 of the Oakland High School held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Ruby Orton on Eleventh street to pass resolutions of regret at the death of Mrs. K. B. Fisher, their teacher in English.

It was decided to send as a floral tribute a large basket of sweet peas, the class flower, tied with ribbons of the class colors. It is probable that the alumni will take some action and contribute floral offerings.

The remains are to be cremated in Odd Fellows' crematory, San Francisco. The funeral services were held this morning in the parlors of the First Congregational church, Dr. J. K. McLean officiating.

H. Rosenbaum, the Dwight way merchant tailor, is located at 2517 Shattuck avenue. Suits to order, and clothes made over at shortest notice, and satisfaction guaranteed. Repairing and cleaning neatly done. 115

J. F. Widlund has just opened up a new grocery store at 2312 Ninth street, near Bancroft way, which he has stocked with the choicest family groceries which he is ready to supply the public with, at the lowest market rates. Call and examine his goods and prices. 87

There is one thing in this world that in order to give satisfaction has got to be perfect, and that is a photograph. Naturally the artist who is thorough in his business and produces perfect pictures gets the trade. This accounts for the immense business done by Evans, the photographer at 1065 Washington street. He takes the finest cabinets in the land for $3 per dozen and has a large Berkeley patronage. 102

For Sale.—A No. 1 buggy, as good as new. Apply to T. J. Murray, corner of 8th street and University avenue. Price $30. 84 1m.

Notice!

The Oakland Gas Co. is advertising their gas to be used as a cheap fuel for cooking and heating, and for lighting purposes. But how much better it would be to have a small Imperial Gas Machine, and be your own banker and your neighbors' also. Furnish yourself with a beautiful, clear, steady light, and with fuel for cooking and heating purposes. See J. Scrieber, Addison street, Berkeley, and he will tell you of the neighbors here who have them. 108

Whoa, Thar!

And step into Schmidt & Zehner's in the Shattuck Block and inspect those bread and cake knives that they sell for 50 cents. If you need any hardware, bird cages, pocket knives or tacks for bicycles. They have them. Call for anything in their line, and it will appear. 110

For Sale—A fine pleasure boat capable of seating ten persons, rigged for sail or oars, will be sold cheap. Inquire of Mrs. Dutro, 7th street near Bancroft way. 97

If you want the best coal, the finest quality of hay and grain at the very lowest rates you must, of course. go to Ramos & Renas, the popular dealers whose place of business is on the corner of Eighth and Addison streets. 108

Fall Millinery.

Miss E. Barnett, formerly of No. 14 Grant avenue, San Francisco, but now on Center street opposite the Kellogg school, Berkeley, is now receiving her fall millinery. She has also dress making parlors and dressmakers' findings at 'Frisco prices. 89

Merriam & Co., the well known grocers, and dealers in provisions, poultry and produce at 1229 and 1231 Broadway, Oakland, are now receiving a large amount of fine Hardwick nectarines from the celebrated orchard of Judge Stabler. This fruit is as large as a peach and is fine for canning or preserving. Goods delivered in Berkeley Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. 107
